the last forest

the last forest is a system that acts as an observer of politic, climatic and economic collapse.

it expresses the thoughts of a community dedicated to collapse in the shape, colour and size of trees.

these trees each represent a post on the subreddit /r/collapse, where people go to discuss the collapse of the environment and civilization.

this project aims to abstractly represent the degradation of the Earth through a persistent microcosm.

it is probable that the very last update to the system will not be viewed by anyone, for it would mean the end of humanity and its technological civilization, and perhaps of the server hosting the
